Guidelines for state reporting under the Protocol to the African Charter on Human and Peoples' Rights on the Rights of Women in Africa

Pursuant to article 26 of the Protocol to the African Charter on Human and Peoples' Rights on the Rights of Women in Africa (the Protocol), read together with article 62 of the African Charter on Human and Peoples' Rights (the African Charter), each state party to the Protocol has agreed to submit every two years, from the day the Protocol comes into force, a report on the legislative, judicial, administrative and other measures taken with a view to ensure full realisation of the rights and freedoms contained in the Protocol.

A state party to the African Charter and the Protocol must submit its report in two parts: Part A, dealing with the rights in the African Charter, and Part B, dealing with the rights in the Protocol. A state's first report under Part B must, preferably, not exceed 50 pages and subsequent reports should not exceed 30 pages. In the preparation of Part B, state parties should follow the following guidelines:

Initial reports

When states report for the first time under the Protocol, they must provide the following:

i. Process of preparation

To what extent was civil society, in particular individuals and organisations working on gender issues, involved in the preparation of the report?

ii. Background information

- A brief description of the state's overall legal framework as it relates to women's rights (such as the Constitution, other laws, policies and programmes).
- An explanation as to whether the Protocol is directly applicable before national courts or if it has to be incorporated into domestic law. Information on whether in practice the provisions of the Protocol have been invoked before national courts and tribunals (with some examples of the most important cases).
- If the State has entered any reservations to the Protocol, it should provide an explanation indicating the effect of the reservations (if any) on the enjoyment of the rights protected by the Protocol. The State should indicate how much time is needed before it can lift its reservations or give an estimate of the time.
- A brief description of state institutions, if any, relevant to the Protocol and information on their budgetary allocation.
 - General information on gender budgeting.
 - Information on gender mainstreaming, including any policy and capacity-building efforts.
 - Information on any gender audit of laws or legal reform efforts undertaken from a gender perspective (attach relevant documents).

iii. Specific provisions of the Protocol

In respect of each of the provisions of the Protocol (which have been thematically structured below), states should explain the measures of implementation that they have undertaken with regard to the following:

- a Legislation (What legislative measures has the state taken to give effect to the particular rights guaranteed in the Protocol?)
- b Administrative measures (What administrative measures, including budgetary allocations, has the state taken to give effect to the particular rights guaranteed in the Protocol?)
- c Institutions (What institutional mechanisms are in place to ensure that the particular rights guaranteed in the Protocol are given effect?)
- d Policies and programmes (What policies and programmes has the state adopted in order to give effect to the rights in question?)

- e Public education (What public education and awareness-raising activities has the state undertaken with respect to the rights in question?)
- f Any other measures (What other general measures, which are not covered in the points above, has state adopted to ensure the protection of the particular rights in question?)
- g Remedies (judicial and administrative (extra-judicial)) (What are the available avenues for redress in the event of a breach of the particular rights provided in the Protocol? Have any cases been decided in respect to each of the rights; and if so, have these decisions been implemented?)
- h Challenges experienced (What are the challenges that the state has faced in the implementation of the particular rights, and what steps have been taken to overcome these challenges?)
- i Accessibility (Are the particular rights accessible to all women, especially rural/impoverished women?)
- j Disaggregated statistics (Where relevant, the state should provide relevant data and statistics disaggregated by gender in so far as the right in question is concerned.)

iv. With reference to the measures of implementation above, states must report on all the provisions of the Protocol, preferably as grouped under the following eight (8) themes:

- 1 Equality/Non-discrimination
 - 1.1 Elimination of discrimination (article 2)
