II. ACTIVITIES OF THE COMMISSION

A. Examination of Reports

11. At its eleventh ordinary session, the Commission considered the initial reports submitted by Egypt and Tanzania pursuant to Article 62 of the Charter. The Commission expressed its appreciation to both governments for submitting their reports and sending representatives to have a dialogue with it. In the Commission’s view, the conduct of Egypt and Tanzania reflected the will of both governments to co-operate in the implementation of the Charter.

The representatives of both governments promised to research further into the questions put forward by the commissioners and submit their answers when presenting their second periodic reports.

As at the eleventh session of the Commission, only eight States had submitted their periodic reports, namely; the Jamahiriya of Libya, Zimbabwe, Egypt, Nigeria, Tunisia, Tanzania, Rwanda and Togo. Accordingly, the Commission recommends to the Assembly of Heads of State and Government the adoption of a draft resolution on Overdue Reports.

B. Promotional Activities

i) Activities of the Commission

12. Commissioners undertook promotional activities in a number of African States. Such activities were undertaken with the co-operation of the competent States authorities in those countries. The object of the activities was to publicise the African Charter and explain the work of the African Commission.

In this context, commissioners gave lectures, attended seminars, and initiated contacts in Africa and elsewhere.

ii) Seminars

13. At its Tenth ordinary session, the Commission decided to organise a number of seminars. These included:

   v) Observers

19. In pursuance of Rule 76 of its Rule of Procedure, the Commission granted observer status to a number of non-governmental organisations. The NGOs which have so far been granted observer status are shown in the list attached to this Volume as Appendix VI.

20. At its eleventh session, the Commission reaffirmed its wish for the continued co-operation with NGOs in the performance of its functions but emphasised the need to observe the limits within which that co-operation is to be rendered, bearing in mind the independence of the Commission and its nature as a Commission of experts operating within the context of the African Charter.

21. The Commission has always taken the view that the NGOs which have been granted observer status should from time to time inform the Commission of their activities in the field of human rights to assist the Commission in its work. In line with this view, the Commission at its eleventh session, reiterated that such NGOs should, at least once every two years, report to the Commission on their activities which are relevant to the work of the Commission.

C. Consideration of Substantive Rights
22. In accordance with its policy to deepen the understanding of substantive rights guaranteed by the Charter, the Commission at its eleventh session discussed:

The Commission made a follow up on the old communications.

ii) Establishment of inter-session working group

24. Considering that the Commission usually meets only twice a year, at its eleventh session, it established an inter-session working group for the purpose of expediting its work.

G. Conclusions and Recommendations

27. The Commission has been functioning for only five years. During this short period and despite the financial constraints, the Commission has successfully carried out a number of promotional and protective activities. However, the Commission realises that it has a lot more to accomplish.

To this end, the Commission has adopted a programme of activities, and has underlined the need that the OAU budget caters for the requirements of the Commission.
