REPORT
OF
THE PROMOTIONAL MISSION TO THE REPUBLIC OF SENEGAL

19-23 August 2002
INTRODUCTION

Article 45(1) of the African Charter on Human and Peoples’ Rights mandates and authorises the African Commission on Human and Peoples Rights to undertake promotional missions to States Parties to the African Charter in order to popularise and monitor the implementation of the Charter. Such Missions are also a way of strengthening relations between the Commission and the State Parties concerned, popularise the Commission and its work and raise issues of human rights concern with the Governments concerned. It is within the framework of these promotional visits that Commissioner Jainaba Johm who is the Commissioner in charge of the Republic of Senegal requested to embark on a promotional mission to the Republic of Senegal from 19 to 23 of August 2002.

PREPARATION FOR THE MISSION

The Secretariat of the African Commission on Human and Peoples’ Rights began exchanging correspondences relating to the mission with the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Senegal as far back as 1st February 2002. The latter was informed of the intention of the Commission to undertake a promotional visit to Senegal. The Government of Senegal confirmed its availability in July 2002 to receive the Mission during the second week of August, precisely from the 19 – 23 of August 2002. Arrangements were then commenced and finalised by the Secretariat to enable the Mission go to Senegal.

COMPOSITION OF THE DELEGATION

The delegation comprised of Commissioner Jainaba Johm, Vice President of the African Commission and Ms. Isatou Harris, legal Intern with the Commission.

TERMS OF REFERENCE OF THE MISSION

The terms of reference of the mission to the Republic of Senegal were as follows:

- Raise awareness of the Charter amongst the relevant Government Institutions and civil society.
- Encourage the Government of Senegal to continue its observance and implementation of the Charter.
- Raise issues of human rights concern with the Government of Senegal and draw the attention of the Senegalese government to the following issues in particular:
  - Need to submit its Reports due since 1992;
  - The issue of the plight of refugees and displaced persons within Senegal;
  - The issue of Street Children/‘Almoudou’ Children;
  - Rights of Women (succession, and polygamy).

Meet with NGO’S in the field of human rights and discuss with them:
- The extent to which they can contribute in the implementation of the provisions of the African Charter on Human and Peoples Rights;
Need for them to participate in the work of the Commission and to encourage them to apply for observer status with the Commission.

THE COUNTRY, THE LAND AND THE PEOPLE

The Republic of Senegal gained independence from France in 1960. Senegal is a semi-arid country located on the westernmost part of West Africa, surrounded by the Atlantic Ocean, Mauritania, Mali, and Guinea-Bissau with The Gambia penetrating more than 320 km (200 Miles) into it. It has well defined dry and humid seasons and an annual rainfall between June and October.

It has a largely rural population with a high density in the west and central region. Senegal’s population is estimated at 9,800,000. The official language in the country is French but there are various indigenous languages of which Wolof is the most commonly spoken. Senegal is predominantly a Muslim country.

Senegal has over the years gained international recognition as a democratic State. Senegal after independence was under the leadership of Leopold Sedar Senghor. He ruled Senegal until 1980 when he voluntarily retired from politics. Leadership of Senegal was then handed over power to, Abdou Diouf who ruled the country from 1981 until 2000 when opposition leader Maitre Abdoulaye Wade defeated him to take over the leadership of Senegal. He is the current leader of Senegal. In Senegal currently there is in existence 71 political parties and a flourishing independent media. Senegal has a generally tolerant culture with active democratic politics.

Senegal is a secular Republic, with a presidency, legislature and judiciary. The five-year term of the Presidency is renewable only once and is through universal suffrage. The 120 members of the National Assembly are elected. The legal system is based on the French civil law and comprised of ordinary, higher and special courts. Muslims however have a right to choose between customary or civil law in certain civil cases relating for instance to matters of inheritance and divorce. There is however a separate military court system for the armed forces and the gendarmerie. There also exists a right of appeal in all courts except for the military courts and the special courts set up to deal with matters of unlawful acquisition of wealth. The Nations highest tribunals are the Cour de Cassation (Highest appeal court) and the Constitutional Council.

The Republic of Senegal is a Party to the African Charter on Human and People’s Rights. It ratified the Charter on 13th August 1982. As at the time of this Mission Senegal had however only submitted 2 reports to the Commission under its obligation as per article 62 of the African Charter. It is yet to submit its 5 overdue reports.

Senegal is also party to the following international and regional human rights instruments:

- Convention on the Elimination of all forms of Racial Discrimination
  Ratified: 19th April 1972

- Convention on the Elimination of all forms of Discrimination Against Women
  Ratified: 5th February 1985

- Convention on the Rights of the Child
  Signed: 18th May 1992

- OAU Convention Governing Specific Aspects of Refugee Problems in Africa
GOVERNMENT EFFORTS TO ADDRESS HUMAN RIGHTS ISSUES

The Government of Senegal has created various institutions engaged in human rights related work are: the Senegalese Human Rights Committee (SHRC), the Ombudsman, the National Observatory of Elections (ONEL), the Ministry for Human Rights Office in the Office of the President and the Inter-Ministerial Committee on Human Rights and Peace.

Furthermore the Senegalese Government has taken the following initiatives:

- During the ceremonial reopening of the courts and tribunals on the 8th November 1996, the government decided to exceptionally recruit 100 Magistrates to make effective the right of fair trial and to reduce the huge gap in the administration of Justice between those in the Capital (Dakar) and those residing in the interior.

- The Government adopted Law no. 96-06 on Monday 5th of February 1996 defining the local authority system, which put in place the decentralisation policy. The decentralisation is a major aspect of the democratisation process.

- In 1997, the National Assembly passed a bill to strengthen the (SHRC). The establishment of the (SHRC) under the law as opposed to one established by decree or regulation, significantly improved its standing. Its role as a mediator between civil society and government is invaluable as it helps to build a cooperative and responsive relationship between government and the NGOs.

NON-GOVERNMENTAL ORGANISATIONS are allowed to operate throughout the country, and presently thirteen NGOs in Senegal enjoy observer status with the African Commission on Human and People’s Rights.

24. He pointed out that their operations are sub-divided into fourteen zones with each zone headed by a Police Superintendent.

25. He added that their job is to ensure that Human Rights are respected, look out for those that commit offences and hand them over to the Public Prosecutor's Office.

26. He said the limits for police custody are defined by the criminal procedure code. One must not be detained for more than 48h. After the 48h they consult a lawyer for advice.

27. Mrs. Johm wanted to know what procedure is applicable in the case of civil litigation.

28. Mr. Mamadou Fall responded that in cases of civil litigation, they perform their investigation and then forward their report to the competent authority.

29. Mrs. Johm asked them if in cases of emergency they do not encounter much trouble to get to the place.

30. Mr. Fall explained that they have set up neighbour-hood Police Units for night patrols and toll-free numbers are set up to enable them act immediately. He added that there are other special brigades that cover the airport and seaport of Dakar.
Date: Wednesday 21st August 2002
Time: 16.00hrs
Location: Prison Administration Head Office
Person met: Mr. Leity Ka, Director of Prisons

Issues Discussed: The role of his Office and the conditions of prisons in Senegal.

31. Mr. Leity Ka made a formal introduction of the prison administration to the delegation. He talked briefly about the history of the department.

32. He explained that the department was attached to the Ministry of Interior. In 1962 it was placed under the Ministry of Justice. In 1963 the department was transferred back to the Ministry of Interior, later to the probationary education department in 1971 and finally since 1992 the department is now attached to the Ministry of Interior.

33. Mr. Leity Ka talked about the organization of the department which comprises of several divisions namely; staff unit, equipments unit, agricultural workshop unit, communication unit and mail tracing unit. He went on further to say that they had created a National Collaboration system to prepare for retirement and social work for prison staff in their prisons all over Senegal.

34. Mr. Kah stated that there were a total of 37 prisons in Senegal. He said the main role of prison officials was to guard and help in the rehabilitation of prisoners.

35. The prison is divided into camps; they have one for criminals who have a conviction for one year and above, a correction camp for those whose conviction are less than a year, a maison d'arret for those whose conviction is just for a year.

36. He further indicated that there were two prisons for females. This was the one in Liberte IV for female prisoners on remand and another for female convicts which is located in Rufisque.

37. Mr. Kah said that between 1999 and 2002 the prison population grew to 5,614 prisoners against 3,283 places it was originally meant to accommodate. They are therefore confronted with problem of overcrowding.

38. Mr. Ka pointed out that in the department there were 2 police officers, 96 administrative officers, 859 Prison Guards, 9 social workers and 3 State Nurses. He also pointed out that the ratio of guard per prisoner is 1 to 15; which is contrary to the internationally defined standard of 1 guard for every 2 prisoners.

54. In his turn, Mr. Djibril Badiane expressed his delight with the delegation's visit to Senegal. He apologised for the delay in the submission of their reports and that his organization will henceforth ensure that the rules of the Commission are respected. He added that his organization was for the past six months engaged in a systematic survey of the refugee situation in Senegal. He concluded by appealing to the Senegalese government and UNHCR to provide assistance to NGOs.

55. The Vice-Chairperson thanked the NGOs for the invaluable role that they are playing in the field of Human Rights in Senegal and again pledged the Commission's readiness to work with them.
Date: Thursday 22 August 2002

Time: 13.00hrs

Location: The Senegalese Human Rights Committee

Person met:
- Mr. Youssoupha N'diaye, Chairman of the Senegalese Committee
- Mr. Malick Sow, Coordinator of the Committee

Issues Discussed:
✓ The real nature of the Organization
✓ The problem of late submission of Senegal's periodic report

56. The Chairman, Youssoupha N'diaye thanked the delegation and expressed his concern about the lack of effective coordination between the Committee and other human rights institutions and departments in Senegal.

57. The N'diaye said that he would like to be provided with the documents of the Commission regularly to enable them possess maximum information on the Commission and its work in the field of protection and promotion of human rights in Africa. He emphasized that the Senegalese Committee was the first committee to be established since 1970, and said that the inter-ministerial committee which had been in existence before and functioned more effectively, should be revived. He recommended that the Head of State reintroduce that old system. According to him, this organizational problem is the cause of the late submission of the periodic report. In fact he said it would have been the duty of that Committee to write the report to be submitted to the Commission.

58. He added that his Office has complained about the proliferation of human rights institutions within Senegal and recommended that what was needed was more team work which reflected the old system. He suggested that the Government could do away with the Office of the High Commissioner it had recently created. He said he would recommend a meeting of all the human rights institutions within the country in order to attain a more efficient and effective output.

59. Mr. Youssoupha N'diaye talked about the role of his Office which included the obligation to submit every year a report to the President of the Republic. He however lamented that even though his Office had been submitting its report there has been no follow-up to which unfortunately there were no follow-ups. He further indicated that the Committee was the only entity that adhered to the national and international standards. The Committee was established under law. The chairman concluded by stressing the need for Senegal to speak with one voice in Human Rights matters as well as settle the coordination issue.

60. Mrs Johnm once more thanked the Chairman of the Senegalese Committee and urged him to participate in the Sessions organized by the Commission. She further assured him that she would inform the African Commission Secretariat in Banjul to be sending his office any relevant information and documentation.

Date: Thursday 22 August 2002

Time: 15.00hrs

Location: Ministry for Women and Infancy Affairs
Persons met:
- Mrs. Maty Diaw, Director, Department of Family Affairs
- Mr. Amadou Yoro N’diaye, Principal Private Secretary of the Ministry for Family and Infancy
- Modou Sall, Director in charge of Family and Infancy Rights.

Issues discussed: Issues relating to women and street children

61. Mrs. Johm thanked the personalities for the audience and spoke at length about the role of the Commission and issues that have come before the Commission relating to the rights of children and women in Senegal. She said she welcomes the steps the Government of Senegal has taken over the years to address these issues especially the plight of street children and the rural women and encouraged them to do more.

62. After having welcome the delegation, Mr. Amadou Yoro N’Diaye did a rapid overview of the Ministry’s activities. He informed us that the Ministry had come up with a project on the fight against violation of the rights of the child. He recalled that Senegal had adopted the 1991 Convention on the Rights of the Child as well as the African Charter On the Rights and Welfare of the Child.

63. Mr. Modou Sall explained that the Ministry for family affairs is working closely with the High Commissioner for Human Rights.

64. Madame Maty Diaw also talked about the various forms of discrimination that the Senegalese women are subjected to. She said her Office had made some proposals to the Government. She said she was optimistic about the fact that inequality, will soon be a thing of the past. As regards children, she said her Ministry formulated and is implementing a programme meant to seek solutions for street children. Further she said that the Head of State, His Excellency Maitre Abdoulie Wadda had personally pledged to adopt radical measures in respect of Street Children. She emphasized that the Senegalese government had passed a law against female genital mutilation. She further indicated that there was an on-going project to fight against child sexual abuse, violence and labor. According to her the Senegalese government has embarked upon important measures geared towards effective adherence to all the conventions signed, particularly on the rights of the child and women.

65. Vice Chairperson Jainaba Johm thanked them for the warm reception accorded her team and urged them to use their good offices to especially make this phenomenon of street children a thing of the past. The Vice said further that she was impressed with the programmes and policies the Government had put in place to address some of these issues.

Date: Thursday 22 August 2002
Time: 16.00hrs
Location: Ministry of Foreign Affairs
Persons met:
- H.E. Ambassador Babacar Mbaye, Principal Private Secretary
- Cheikh Tidiane Thiam, Director of Legal Affairs
- Abdou Aziz Ndiaye, Director in charge of International Organizations
Issues discussed: The role of the Commission and the late submission of Senegal's periodic Report

66. His Excellency Ambassador Babacar Mbaye thanked the delegation on behalf of the Head of State and expressed his delight with the fact the Commission presently has four female Commissioners.

67. H.E. Ambassador Babacar Mbaye recalled that President Senghor was among the founders of the African Charter on Human and Peoples' Rights and since then Senegal did not spare any effort to give effect to the provisions of the charter. Commissioner John was assured that they would use their good offices to make sure that Senegal's overdue report be submitted by the next session of the Commission.

Date: Thursday 22 August 2002

Time: 17.00hrs

Location: Conference Hall of The Ministry of Foreign Affairs

Persons met: Journalists

Issue discussed: A Press Conference was held.

68. Over twenty journalists representing different media houses attended the Vice-Chairperson's press conference. The Vice Chairperson talked generally about the role of the Commission and spoke specifically about persons she had been able to meet and places she had visited and thanked the Government and people of Senegal for their cooperation, which helped to make her visit to Senegal a success. Finally she thanked those present for their attention.

69. The journalists expressed their delight with the visit of the Vice Chairperson of the African Commission for Human and Peoples' Rights. They asked questions about prison conditions since as journalists they were not allowed to visit cells and complained a lot about this situation.

70. They also wanted to know what were the impressions of the Vice Chairman during her visit to Senegal. They also raised questions regarding refugees, street children and women including the case of Amina lawal who was sentenced in Nigeria.

71. The Vice-Chairperson explained that a report will be prepared on the visit and submitted to the Senegalese Government after which it will be a public document. This report will contain her findings and recommendations. With regards to the Amina Lawal and other similar cases in Nigeria, the Commission has appealed to the Nigerian Government to intervene and quash the sentence.
CONCLUSIONS

A very well planned programme of activities was prepared for the team and this timetable was strictly followed. This promotional mission helped raise further awareness of the Commission, and also helped the team identify critical human rights issues. As a result of this Mission the delegation was able to establish contacts within the Government and the civil society and hold frank and open exchanges. The delegation is pleased with the efforts being made by the Senegalese government in its implementation of the Charter and other Human Rights conventions and treaties it has ratified. The Government of Senegal has agreed to be attending our sessions and work closely with the Commission.

FINDINGS

The Government of the Republic of Senegal undertook to prepare and submit all its outstanding periodic reports in accordance with article 62 of the African Charter.

The Government of the Republic of Senegal has established various human rights institutions, however these seem to act individually rather than together.

The Government of the Republic of Senegal has started taking steps to address the serious problem of overcrowding in the prisons.

The Government of the Republic of Senegal is about to set up a Refugee Management Committee whose function would be to address the issue of refugees.

The Government of the Republic of Senegal has embarked on a lot of programmes aimed at improving the human rights of women and children.

In the Republic of Senegal the NGO community and the Press play an active role in awareness building.

RECOMMENDATIONS

- The Senegalese Government should initiate an open and frank debate with all the various human rights institutions, in order to ensure that there is close collaboration between them. This should enable these institutions better coordinate their activities in the human rights field and facilitate projects like the preparation of Senegal’s periodic reports;

- Senegal should as soon as possible submit its outstanding reports to the Commission.

- The project relating to the rights of children currently underway within the department of Family and Infancy affairs should be accelerated with a view to improving the effective protection of the rights of children in practice;

- The Government of the Republic of Senegal should continue in its efforts to improve prison conditions, particularly with respect to ventilation, hygiene and the number of prisoners in cells;
• The Government of the Republic of Senegal should continue to work closely with non-governmental organizations in order to ensure better implementation of the African Charter.

• The Commission encourages the Government of the Republic of Senegal to quickly set up the proposed refugee management committee. This would further help in addressing the situation of refugees within Senegal.
APPRECIATION

The Mission Team on behalf of the Commission would want to extend its appreciation to the Government of the Republic of Senegal for accepting and facilitating the mission. Further thanks and appreciation goes to the Minister for Human Rights Maitre Bassine Niang for organising the programme of the mission and ensuring that the team was comfortable. Our special thanks to Mr Momodou N'diaye for his tireless efforts in making sure this mission was a success. Our special thanks to all the Government personalities, NGO's and the Press who took time out of their busy schedule to meet with the team and more especially to the people of the Republic of Senegal to whom we dedicate this Mission.
